Government-process
design, dynamics, and control

A good party declaration, party constitution, and party laws will let the party's grassroots select constitutionalists.

A good party's representatives will:

- Use their offsetting powers to limit others in government.
- Prevent crises, helping stop the party from breaking bad.
- Make every law keep powers separated and bounded.
- Let people work together freely to add far-more value.

For governments to be limited, government people must use their constitutional powers against others in governments.

\(Conservatism Is Action Conserving and Building Freedom\)

Governments give people lots of power. This power must be kept within good boundaries.

\(Henry Cloud and John Townsend. Boundaries: When to Say Yes, How to Say No to Take Control of Your Life\)

- If we rely on people to limit themselves, then every legislative majority's members must limit it, and every executive and judge must limit himself.
- If we rely on people to limit others, then any individual legislators, executives, or judges will help limit the governments.

The Constitution defines offsetting powers that are strong, are robust, and provide multiple layers of protection.

If change is for the better, fast change creates new winners and a new balance of forces.

If change is for the worse at first, fast change creates fast pushback that brings change for the better.

Fast change is blocked by past and present senates' filibuster/cloture rules.

These rules are unconstitutional.

\(rConstitution Paper 13: Filibuster/Cloture Is Unconstitutional. rConstitution Papers\)

\(Who Will Benefit Long-Term from Ending the Filibuster? American Greatness\)

\(Dan Coenen. The Filibuster and the Framing: Why the Cloture Rule Is Unconstitutional and What to Do About It, pp. 47-83\)

- Filibuster/cloture rules treat 40 minority votes as equivalent to 60 majority votes.
- Filibuster/cloture rules deprive vice presidents of their power to cast tie-breaking votes.
- Filibuster/cloture rules defy these supreme rules that are ratified into the Constitution and replaces them with inferior rules that are passed by senate majorities.

Half-reciprocal tariffs product-by-product, are fast, extensive change that could soon increase freedom.

\(Tariffs: Meet Halfway to Freedom? Lew Rockwell\)

We have a systemic problem:

We don't have at least one good major party.

Our last small-government major party, the initial Democrats, broke bad in 1894.

\(Murray Rothbard. The Progressive Era, pp. 163-97\)

Our current legislatures are always 3/4 Progressive:

1/2 Democrats who are fully Progressive, plus 1/2 Republicans who are 1/2 Progressive.

\(The Constitution Needs a Good Party, pp. 4-5\)

The Progressive coalition is made up of most politicians.

- All elected Democrats.
- All current elected independents.
- Around 70% of elected Republicans.
- Libertarians, on abortion, illegal immigration, and liberty from addictives.
- The Green Party.

Liberty Scores of at least 80% are earned by 17% of today's house and 14% of today's senate.

\(Wave Election Harnessing\)

What can pass is determined by the swing votes for constitutionalist bills.

- After the 2018 election, the swing votes in both houses had Liberty Scores of 22%.
\(Republicans: The Key Progressives\)
- As of 2021, if we were trying to get a new amendment ratified, the swing vote would be whichever Oregon Democratic senator would be more Progressive than 17% of Oregon Democratic senators.
\(Convention of Waste\)

A good party will exist solely to help voters select good candidates, using helpful features that are designed in.

\(The Constitution Needs a Good Party\)

A party name that's specific and meaningful.

- republican Constitution Party.
- "rConstitution Party."
- This party will be designed to implement the small-r republican Constitution, in which We the People are each individuals whose rights are to be secured.
- The is the opposite of the small-d democratic Constitution, in which We the People is a democratic majority that rules over the democratic minority.
- These specific fixed meanings were established by Randy Barnett in Our Republican Constitution. The correct understanding is that the Constitution is the republican Constitution.

\(Randy Barnett. Our Republican Constitution: Securing the Liberty and Sovereignty of We the People\)

A party declaration that's modeled on the Declaration of Independence.

- A preamble which states that life, liberty, and property are made secure by separating powers, respecting other government people's powers, and asserting offsetting powers.
- Grievances which give a large number of specific examples of exactly how elected representatives and party officials have failed to assert their offsetting powers to limit others in governments.
- Together, the preamble and grievances will establish standards of behavior that representatives implicitly promise to uphold when they join the party.

A party constitution that's modeled on the Constitution.

- Party legislators, executive officers, and judicial officers, like their government counterparts who are defined in the Constitution.
- Power to solicit and collect donations.
\(Donations Power\)
- Power to arrange national-party meetings.
\(Meetings Power\)
- Power to control state-party selection of national-government candidates.
\(Schedules and Controls Power\)
- No platform.

Party laws that reverse Progressive parties' candidate-selection processes.

- Liberty Scores or Freedom Indexes must be at least 80%, and eventually at least 90%.

A good party will win majorities.

When we compare the presidents who rose to office by getting elected, four of the top five first-time electoral-vote percentages were won by constitutionalists.

- 100%: George Washington.

A good party can be started at least 6 ways (and more than one way at a time).
